

Selected Poetry.

One Year Ago.

What stars have faded from our sky!
What hope unfolded to the eye!
What dreams, so fondly pondered o'er,
Forever lost the hues they wore!
How, like a death-bell sad and slow,
Tolls through the soul, "one year ago!"

Where is the face we loved to greet,
The form that gladdened the festive seat,
The gentle smile, the winning way,
That blessed our life-path day by day?
Who died those accents, soft and low,
That thrilled our hearts "one year ago!"

Ah! vacant is the festive chair,
The smile that won no longer there;
From door and hall, from porch and lawn,
The echo of that voice is gone;
And those who linger, only know,
How much was lost "one year ago!"

But why repine? A few more years,
A few more broken sighs and tears,
And we will wait with the dead,
Shall follow where her steps have led:
To that far world rejoicing go,
To which she passed "one year ago!"

Humorous.

A Good Recommendation.

A patent medicine vender in one of our principal cities was dilating for a large crowd upon the wonderful efficacy of his iron bitters, pronouncing them the great panacea, and all potent in building up an "iron constitution."

"That is so—that is so," said a bystander. "What he tells you is a fact, gentleman—every word of it."

"Hear that, will you?" cried the delighted quack; "here is living testimony right before your own eyes—a man who has used the bitters, and can recommend them."

"No; not exactly that," replied the old fellow; "I have never used the stuff myself, but you see, Steve Jenkins did, and they just saved his life."

"How's that?" questioned some one.

"Well, you see, Steve had taken the bitters just one week before he was shoved in prison for murder. He was stripped of everything in the shape of iron about him, and yet he made a bar and worked his way out."

"Probably he had whiskey enough in him to furnish a bar," suggested a wag.

"No, but he didn't," retorted the first. "He had been taking the first man's iron bitters, d'ye mind? and what does Steve do but open a vein in his arm, and took iron enough out of his blood to make a crowbar, and pried the gates open with it, and let himself out. Fact!"

The "medicine man" subsided.

"Where were you, Charlie?" "In the garden, ma." "No—you have been swimming; you know I cautioned you about going to the creek. I will have to correct you. Look at your hair, how wet it is." "Oh, no, ma, this is not water—it is sweat."

"Ah, Charlie, I have caught you fibbing; your shirt is wrong side out." "Boy, triumphantly—" "Oh, I did that just now, ma, climbing the fence."

Two good-natured Irishmen, on a certain occasion, occupied the same bed. In the morning one of them inquired of the other:

"Dennis, did you hear the thunder last night?"

"No, Pat; did it really thunder?"

"Yes, it thundered as if heaven and earth would come together."

"Why in the devil didn't it wake me, for ye know I can't slape whin it thunders."

On a recent trip of one of the Illinois River packets—a light draft one—as there were only two feet deep of water in the channel, the passengers were startled by the cry of "Man overboard!"

The steamer was stopped, and preparations were made to save him, when he was heard exclaiming, "Go ahead with your damned old steamboat. I'll walk behind you."

A lady had a custom of saying to a favorite little dog, to make him follow her.

"Come along, sir."

A would-be-wit stepped up to her one day, and accosted her with,

"Is it me, madam, you called?"

"Oh no, sir," said the lady, "it was another puppy I spoke to."

An exchange is guilty of relating this story: "A Pennsylvania preacher has received for salary this year a curry-comb, a keg of varnish, and two dozen clothespins. Whenever his children cry with hunger, he gags them with a clothes-pin, scratches them with the curry-comb, and lays on a coat of varnish."

GRAY HAIRS NON EST.—A tutor of a college, lecturing a young man on his irregular conduct, added with great pathos, "The report of your vices will bring your father's gray hairs with sorrow to the grave."

"I beg your pardon, sir," replied the pupil, "my father wears a wig."

A STUPID CLERK.—The other day a young lady stepped into a dry-goods establishment, and inquired of the clerk attending: "Sir, have you any mouse-colored gloves?"

"Mouse-colored gloves, miss?" "Yes, a sort of gray, just the color of your drawers," meaning the store drawers, that were painted gray.

"My drawers, miss? why, I don't wear any."

A cab was seen leaving that store a few minutes after with a lady in the corner with a handkerchief to her face.

A CRAWFORD COUNTY, Ill., man sold his boots for $4, and stole them back the same night.

BALLOON'S MAGAZINE FOR DECEMBER.—The first in the field for December is Balloon's Magazine, and an examination of it shows that it is a model number in every respect.

The engravings are excellent, while the stories are remarkable for their interest and great originality. Mrs. Elson finishes her continued story, and Horatio Alger, Jr., concludes his "Sink or Swim" in a satisfactory manner, as the juveniles will learn when they read it. May be furnished a sea story in his own peculiar vein. Stephens gives us "An Evening with a Catamount." Darling tells us "Why our Wedding was Postponed," in his most comical manner, and then there is a Christmas story, full of humanity and goodness, and three or four love stories which will bear perusal half a dozen times, and "Lost and Found" is a regular California tale, by a new aspirant for fame in the columns of Balloon.

In addition to this there are many articles worth reading, in the shape of sketches, poetry, etc., etc., and all for the sum of 15 cents per copy, or $1.50 per year. The New Year will commence with many rare novelties, so don't delay in making up your clubs or purchasing at the periodical depots. Thomas & Talbot, 68 Congress street, Boston, are the publishers.

A NAVAL duel, formally arranged at Havana, took place on the 5th inst., ten miles off the Cuban coast, between the Prussian gun-boat Meteor and the French gun-boat Bourvet. The Spanish war steamer Hernandez Cortes attended as umpire, with the Captain-General and other officials on board. After an interchange of five shots, the Bourvet attempted to board, but her rigging got in a "mess" with the Meteor, her main and mizen mast went overboard, and the rigging going along with them, entangled the Bourvet's masts. The latter just then smashed the Bourvet's steam-pipe with a shell, and the Frenchman forthwith made haste to get away. The Meteor, though unable at the moment to pursue, kept up fire on the fugitive, and was duly declared the victor. The Bourvet had three wounded—the Meteor two killed and one wounded. The Germans at Havana are arranging a grand banquet for the officers of the Meteor.

A GERMAN named Rudolph Dryer, delivered himself up to the police authorities of New York, a few days since, claiming to be the Nathan murderer. No faith is placed in his statement, and he is regarded as insane.

ROSADALIS

THE GREAT AMERICAN
HEALTH RESTORER, purifies
the blood and cures Scrophulous, Syphili-tic, Rheumatic, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections
of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys.
(Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best Physicians.)
Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis;
and for our Rosadalis Guide to Health (Book), or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution
it will give you much valuable information.
Dr. H. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says:
"I take pleasure in recommending Rosadalis as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of scroph-ula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully compared the formula by which you Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alternative ingredients."
Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrophulous and Secondary Syphilis with beneficial results—as a cleaner of the blood I know of no better remedy.
Benjamin Bechtel, of Lima, Ohio, writes: "I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate scrophulous condition, a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure."
Rosadalis is sold by all druggists.

PLANTATION BITTERS

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomach-ics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superceding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down
the animal spirits.
Wherever it is introduced it becomes a standard article—a medicinal staple. It is to-day
the best and purest tonic,
and the most popular
medicine in the civilized world—be sure and get the genuine. Sold by all

THESE CELEBRATED PREPARA-

W. Carpenter, under the patronage of

they are generally known for their invaluable value, and can be relied on as being most valuable remedies in all cases where Sarsaparilla or Buchu are applicable, and cannot be too highly recommended. They are prepared in a highly concentrated form,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs,
such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma,
&c., &c.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any thing won so widely and so deeply the confidence of the people as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints.
Through a long series of years, and among most of the nations of men it has risen higher, higher in their estimation, as it has become better known,
its utility and power to cure, the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effective remedy that can be given for incipient attacks of Croup, it should be kept on the shelves of every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease is recent, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it.
It not only cures, but it relieves, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.
It is a safe and reliable remedy, and great benefit from its use is often obtained.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by the use of this medicine.
